

CAS Project

11th Grade

- Achieved my aim to create an art piece representing natural themes
- I did not like the rocks that had more than three colors (see below- example given) as the color combinations weren't great (too dull)
- I wanted to bring texture (rocks+pavement)= achieved to certain degree. I wanted to add a realistic touch to my final- shade, perspective, proportion
- Drawing in rock crevices were really hard because it had to contrast with the background. If I tried to use chalk for this, it became impossible. I had to use a dark pencil
- To judge the final, I had kept my piece next to my photo. In my opinion, the pavement has been done well, but the crack in the middle could be improved upon
- The depth, balance, and texture of the crack didn't come out as I had hoped.
- I wanted harmony to be present in my picture (thought about rocks). Rocks took me the most amount of time- not every rock- same time. The hardest ones were where the colors had to be experimented with.
- When pastels were used first, the chalk couldn't be used. I had problems with shading as I used both medias.
- The pavement was the easiest to do, as most of it was one color. The texture was not hard to achieve- dots used. The rocks that had only a few colors were the easiest (blending easier). Colors with many colors all over color wheel were hard to blend (see tests).
